Which Books Are Currently Available?
The Espresso Book Machine’s technology draws books from its proprietary EspressNet® software, which is a digital catalog of content. Much like an iTunes for books, EspressNet retrieves, encrypts, transmits, and catalogues books from a multitude of English and foreign language sources. This includes in-copyright titles now made available by major publishers, as well as titles which have fallen into the public domain and are made available as scans through the Google Books program. To date, the EBM’s digital catalog of titles is over seven million strong and growing.

A New Marketing Opportunity
The EBM provides a new marketing platform for your partnership with brick-and-mortar booksellers. Booksellers can now actively market, cross-sell, and stimulate impulse buys for your entire list. And you and your retail partners can now use social media and other direct marketing tools to drive sales of your titles in-store or via the retailers’ website.

How Are Transactions Tracked?
All transactions on the Espresso Book Machine are tracked by EspressNet, our copyrighted software system which assures the security of publishers’ titles, tracks all transactions, and provides for all payments due to publishers and content aggregators. On Demand Books, the company behind the EBM network, invoices the retailers monthly for content fees due on books printed and remits payment to publishers. Content providers retain full ownership and control over their digital titles.
What Is The Espresso Book Machine?
At the push of a button, the Espresso Book Machine prints, binds, and trims a bookstore-quality, perfect-bound paperback book, with a full color cover—in mere minutes. Bookstores, libraries, and universities around the world are hosting the Espresso Book Machine® (EBM), which provides access to millions of titles available via the EspressNet® catalog.

The Benefits For Publishers
The Espresso Book Machine offers a powerful new sales channel. It eliminates loss of sales due to out-of-stock inventory and dramatically expands the availability of the full breadth of a publisher’s titles.

By joining the Espresso Book Machine network, publishers:
» Receive the same margin as conventionally printed books
» Support brick-and-mortar retailers
» Eliminate returns, shipping, inventory, and other costs associated with the traditional supply chain
» Actively drive sales across the full breadth of the publishers’ catalog
» Reduce lost sales due to out-of-stocks
» Take part in a green technology that eliminates pulping of books and pollution caused by shipping

Books Printed In Minutes Onsite
For Immediate Pick-Up

The Growing Espresso Book Machine Network
There are a total of 81 EBMs either currently installed or pending in bookstores, libraries, and universities around the world, including:
» Books-A-Million (Portland, ME and Birmingham, AL)
» Powell’s Books (Portland, OR)
» Tattered Cover Bookstore (Denver, CO)
» Politics & Prose Bookstore (Washington, D.C.)
» Harvard Book Store (Cambridge, MA)
» McNally Jackson (New York, NY)
» The Writer’s Block (Las Vegas, NV)
» Sacramento Public Library (Sacramento, CA)
» American Book Center (Amsterdam, Netherlands)

For a complete list of EBM locations, please visit www.ondemandbooks.com.